- Takes place outside working time, in a break
- Does not constitute unacceptable use, as set out in section 5.2

Staff must not use school ICT facilities to store personal, non-work-related material such as music, videos or photos. Personal use may fall within the scope of the school's monitoring activity described in section 11.

7. Social Media

There are two types of communication covered by this policy: personal communications, made on a personal social media account, and professional communications, made through official Trust or school channels.

Professional communications must always follow the Trust's and school's guidance for official accounts. Only staff authorised to manage an official account may post to it.

Personal communications are permitted but if a conversation becomes public and its content is inappropriate or unprofessional, disciplinary action may be taken. Staff should ask themselves: “If this became public knowledge,

Staff must not:

8. Images of Pupils, Staff and the School Community

Every school and staff member must follow the Trust's Using Images Safely in CLT Schools guidance, alongside the UK Safer Internet Centre's guidance on Protecting your Settings Images from AI manipulation and abuse.

This includes, in summary: using only school-owned devices to capture images, avoiding identifiable faces on publicly accessible platforms, gaining annual informed consent, storing images securely, and removing images promptly when a pupil leaves the school.

> Staff, volunteers and contractors must read and follow the Using Images Safely in CLT Schools Policy in full before capturing or sharing any image of a pupil or member of staff.

9. Artificial Intelligence

Only AI tools on the Trust Approved AI Tool Register may be used by staff or pupils. Any new tool must be reviewed by the Trust EdTech Lead against the DfE's product safety expectations, and a Data Protection Impact Assessment (DPIA) must be completed and approved by the Headteacher/Directors as outlined in the GDPR Policy.

Staff must never input personal or sensitive pupil data, or pupil work into an AI system that is not on the Trust Approved AI Tool Register. This risks a data protection breach or a breach of intellectual property.

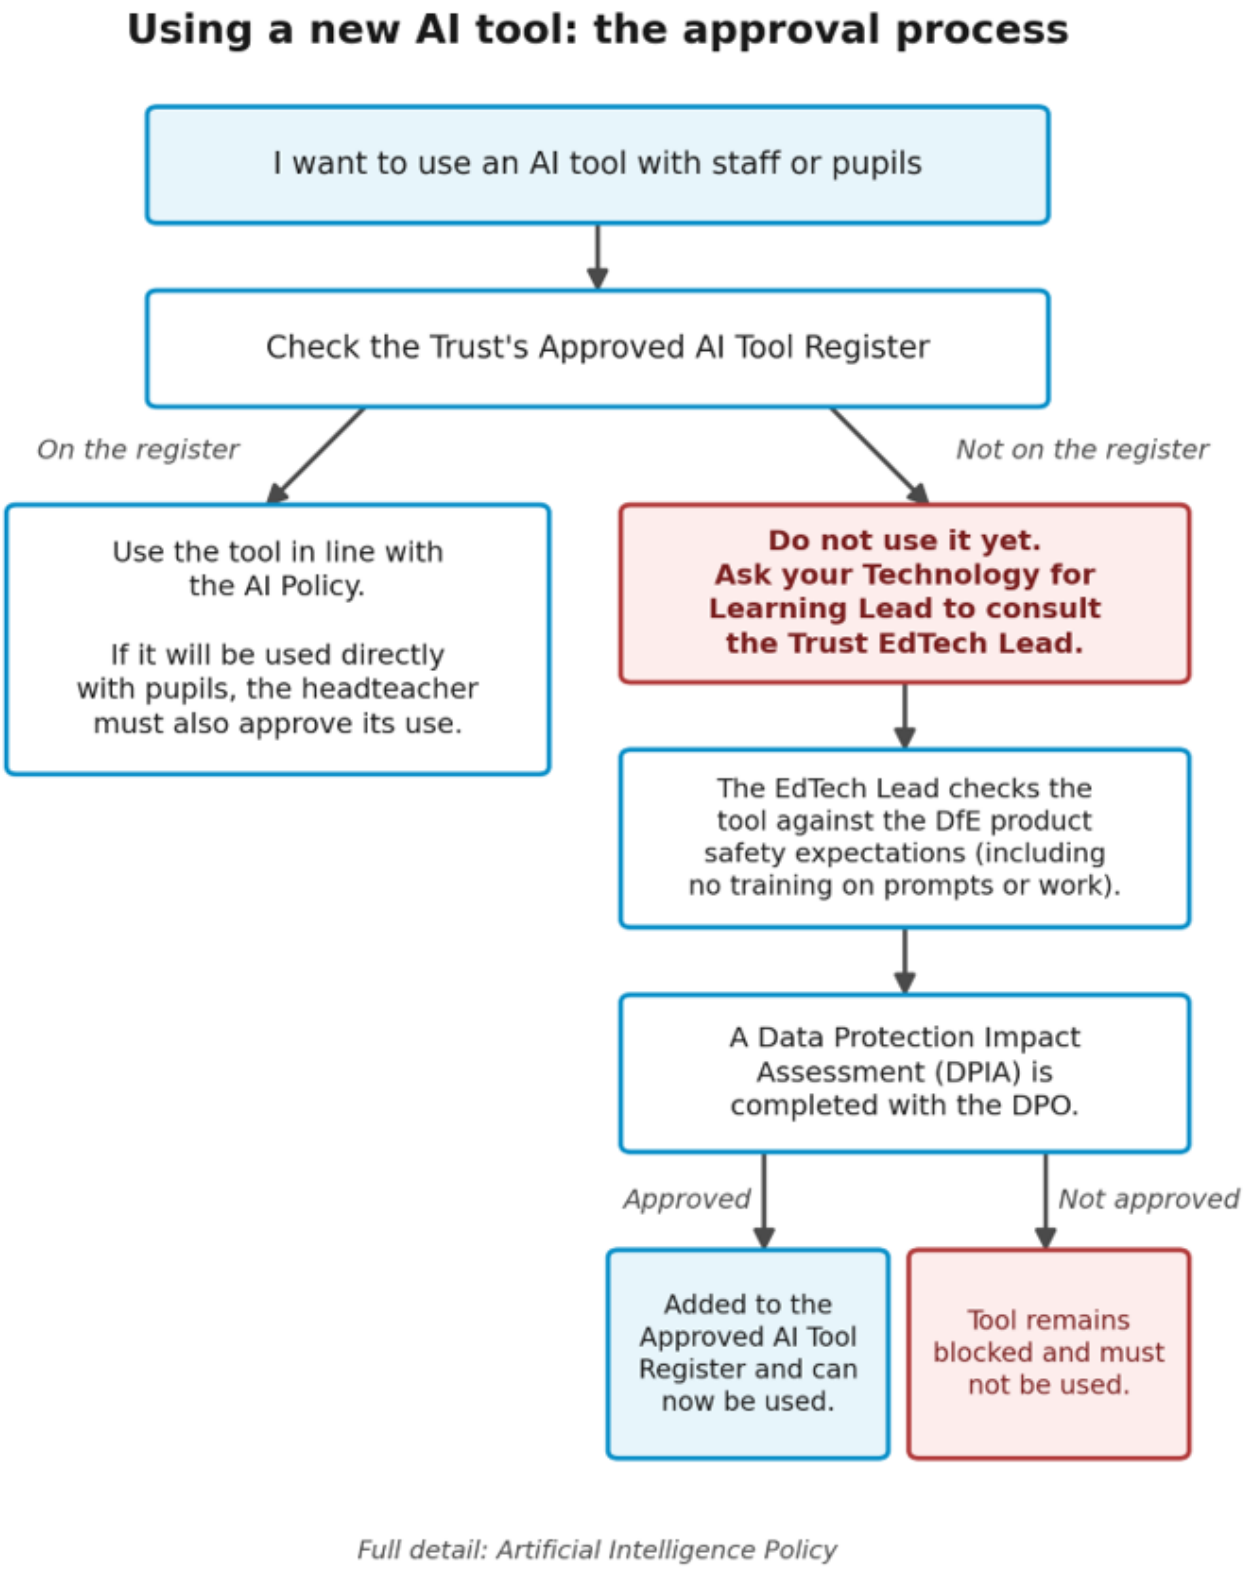

Figure 1: the approval process for a new AI tool. Full detail is set out in the Artificial Intelligence Policy.

10. Data Security and Cyber Security

The Trust takes steps to protect its systems, data and users, including firewalls, anti-malware software, and multi-factor authentication. All users must set strong, unique passwords, keep them secure, and never share or disclose account details. Devices and systems must be logged out and locked when not in use.

If you notice anything that could be a cyber or data security incident for example a suspicious email, a lost device, information sent to the wrong person or a ransomware demand immediately report this to your school IT contact and your line manager.

> Full details on remote access Cyber Security requirements are set out in the Cyber Security Protocol and on the approval process for software in the Data Protection Policy .

11. Filtering and Monitoring

To safeguard pupils and provide a safe environment to learn, the Trust filters and monitors the use of its ICT facilities and network, including internet sites visited, email accounts and user activity. Only authorised School and ICT personnel may access this information.

Monitoring is carried out to keep pupils safe, investigate compliance with school policies, ensure effective ICT operation and to comply with legal obligations such as a subject access request.

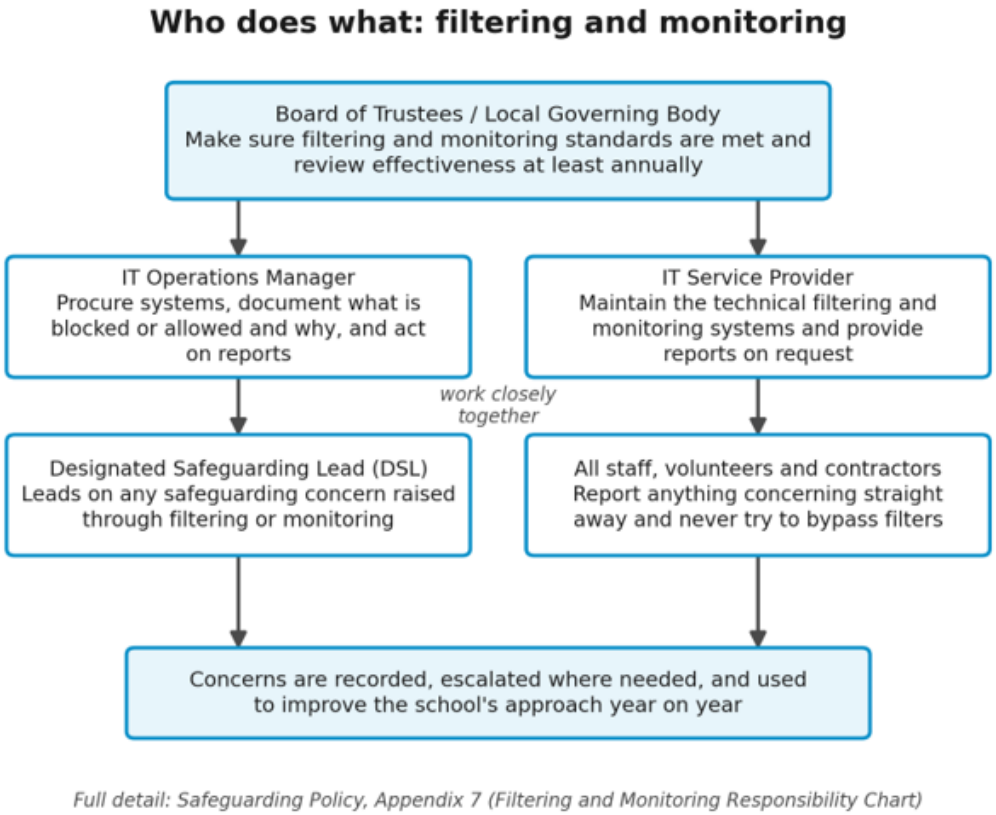

Figure 3: who is responsible for what. The full Filtering and Monitoring Responsibility Chart is set out in the Safeguarding Policy, Appendix 7.

12. Internet/Wifi Access (wifi network access including but not limited to access to the internet).

Visitors may not use the school's Wi-Fi/Internet unless this has been set-up and specifically authorised; for example for an event. In this instance a specific password will be generated and then cancelled once the event is completed.
